The terms and conditions of the Product may be subject to adjustments during the lifetime of the Product as set out in the Programme. Investors whose usual currency is not the currency in which the Product is redeemed should be aware of their possible currency risk. The value of the Product may not correlate with the value of the Underlying.

Market Risks

The general market performance of securities is dependent, in particular, on the development of the capital markets which, for their part, are influenced by the general global economic situation as well as by the economic and political framework conditions in the respective countries (so-called market risk). Changes to market prices such as interest rates, commodity prices or corresponding volatilities may have a negative effect on the valuation of the Underlying(s) or the Product. There is also the risk of market disruptions (such as trading or stock market interruptions or discontinuation of trading) or other unforeseeable occurrences concerning the respective Underlyings and/ or their stock exchanges or markets taking place during the term or upon maturity of the Products. Such occurrences can have an effect on the time of redemption and/or on the value of the Products.

No Dividend Payment

This Product does not confer any claim to receive rights and/ or payments of the Underlying, such as dividend payments, unless explicitly stated herein, and therefore, without prejudice to any coupon or dividend payments provided for in this Termsheet, does not yield any current income. This means that potential losses in value of the Product cannot be compensated by other income.

Credit Risk of Issuer

Investors bear the credit risk of the Issuer of the Product. The value of the Products is dependent not only on the Underlyings, but also on the creditworthiness of the Issuer, which may change over the term of the Product.

The Products constitute unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer and rank pari passu with each and all other current and future unsubordinated and unsecured obligations of the Issuer. The insolvency of the Issuer may lead to a partial or total loss of the invested capital.

Secondary Market

The Issuer or any third party appointed by the Issuer, as applicable, intends, under normal market conditions, to provide bid and offer prices for the Products on a regular basis (if specified in the section "General Information"). However, the Issuer makes no firm commitment to provide liquidity by means of bid and offer prices for the Products, and assume no legal obligation to quote any such prices or with respect to the level or determination of such prices. In special market situations, where the Issuer is unable to enter into hedging transactions, or where such transactions are very difficult to enter into, the spread between the bid and offer prices may be temporarily expanded, in order to limit the economic risks of the Issuer. Investors must be prepared to hold the Securities until the Redemption Date.

Illiquidity Risk

One or, if applicable, more of the Underlyings might be or become illiquid over the life time of the Product.

Illiquidity of an Underlying might lead to larger bid/ offer spreads of the Product and/or to an extended time period for buying and/ or selling the Underlying respective to acquire, unwind or dispose of the hedging transaction(s) or asset(s) or to realise, recover or rem it the proceeds of such hedging transaction(s) or asset(s) which might implicate a postponed redemption or delivery and/ or a modified redemption amount, as reasonably determined by the Calculation Agent.

CREDIT LINKED CERTIFICATE SPECIFIC RISKS

Credit Linked Certificate Risks Generally

Investors in Credit Linked Certificates should note that:

- The terms and conditions of the Certificates provide that the return on the Certificates (including payment of coupon amounts) is dependent on the credit of the Reference Entity.
- In purchasing the Certificates, investors assume credit exposure to both the Reference Entity and the Issuer. The credit risk to investors may further be increased if the Reference Entity is concentrated in the same industry sector or geographic area as the Issuer.
- Marex acts as a broker, trader, research provider and market maker. In those and other capacities, Marex purchases, sells or holds a broad array of investments, actively trades securities, derivatives, commodities, currencies, credit default swaps, indices, baskets and other financial instruments and products for its own account, and will have other direct or indirect interests, in the global fixed income, currency, commodity, equity and other markets. Any of the financial market activities of Marex may, individually or in the aggregate, have an adverse effect on the market for the Securities, and an investor should expect that the interests of Marex or its clients or counterparties will at times be adverse to those of investors in the Securities.
- The Certificates may be adjusted or redeemed prior to maturity due to the occurrence of an additional disruption event (i.e. a change in law, a hedging disruption or increased cost of hedging). Any such adjustment may have an adverse effect on the value of and return on the Securities and the amount the investor receives following an early redemption may be less than the initial investment.
- Investors will be exposed to the credit risk of the Reference Entity (being, in general terms, the risk that a given such entity does not perform its financial obligations when due or becomes insolvent), which exposure may be to the full extent of their investment in such Securities. If an Event Determination Date occurs, investors may suffer significant losses.
- Actions of the Reference Entity (for example, merger or demerger or the repayment or transfer of indebtedness) may adversely affect the value of the Securities. Holders of the Securities should be aware that the Reference Entity to which the value of the Securities is exposed, and the terms of such exposure, may change over the term of the Securities.
- In certain circumstances (for example, where a Credit Event has occurred and the related credit loss has not been determined as at the relevant date for payment, or, if applicable, where a potential Credit Event exists as at the scheduled maturity of the Securities), investors may be adversely affected where payment of the redemption amount on the Securities is deferred for a material period in whole or part without compensation to investors.
- Where Certificates are redeemed or settled by reference to a market auction process, the losses determined pursuant to such market auction process may be greater than the losses which would have been determined had an alternative settlement method been used. In particular, the auction process may be affected by technical factors or operational errors which would not otherwise apply or may be the subject of actual or attempted manipulation. Where this is the case, holders may receive a lower amount on redemption or settlement of their Securities than would otherwise be the case.
